MSC HAS YOU COVERED THIS SUMMER!

SUMMER WISDOM
Curtis Library, Brunswick
Wednesdays in June 12:15-1:45 p.m.
Sponsored by Sunnybrook Senior Living Community
FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

SUMMER SEMINARS
Midcoast Senior College & other locations
Registration begins on July 1
$25 per seminar; no membership fee
• July 10: Brush up Your Shakespeare
• July 23: A Tale of Two Maine Towns
• July 24: Maine Marine Art
• August 6: A Brief Introduction to the Poets of Maine
• August 14: Late Summer Gardening

SUMMER EXCURSION
Maine Maritime Museum Lighthouse Cruise Charter
August 16 from 3:30 p.m.-6:30 p.m. / Departs from Bath
Registration begins on July 1
$40 per person; no membership fee
August 16 from 3:30-6:30 p.m.
MSC SUMMER WISDOM 2019

Curtis Library, Brunswick
Wednesdays in June  12:15-1:45 p.m.
Sponsored by Sunnybrook Senior Living Community
FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC!

June 5: “ART CLEANING AND RESTORATION” The science of cleaning and repairing aging or damaged canvases, frames, and sculptures while maintaining the artist's original creation and intent is a challenge that will be described in detail. Peter and Teresa Fogg have operated an art conservation practice from their Wiscasset studio since 1987.

June 12: “MAINE PUBLIC RADIO: A COMMUNITY RESOURCE” Maine Public Radio and NPR are committed to serving the public good and eschewing the profit motive. Mark Vogelzang, President of Maine Public Radio (MPR), will describe the mission and the metrics which Public Radio uses to assess its effectiveness within our state. He will describe revenue streams, tax considerations, and community responsibilities.

June 19: “BOWDOIN COLLEGE: TOWN AND GOWN FROM THE COLLEGE’S PERSPECTIVE” How does Bowdoin College perceive its relationship with the greater community? What services and benefits does the college offer and what services does it receive from the town? What are the tax consequences and what are the costs and benefits to each by the presence of the other? What about auditing of classes, use of facilities, admission to athletic events, and support of town commerce? Bowdoin College’s Matt Orlando will explore and explain these issues from the college’s perspective and answer questions.

June 26: “MID COAST HEALTH SYSTEMS: COMMUNITY CITIZEN AND PROVIDER” We have an outstanding community health care system, primarily the result of an excellent community hospital and a full complement of highly trained physicians and surgeons. Yet, there are major challenges. Can Mid Coast Health Systems continue to provide excellent care and availability 24/7 and compete with competitors? Lois Skillings, President and CEO of Mid Coast-Parkview Health Systems, will discuss this challenge and describe efforts to address it.
POINTING THE WAY...
As we celebrate one year in our new home, we decided to make it official with handsome signs!
Hope to see you here!!

MULTIPLE STARS
This quilt, titled "Multiple Stars," was made by MSC faculty member Ann Kimmage and gifted to the senior college.
It adorns our faculty lounge for students and visitors to enjoy!

READ THE SUMMER EDITION OF THE MIDCOAST INQUIRER

"How the Greeks Learned to Write -- Twice!" by Cynthia W. Shelmerdine

President's Letter

"His Grandfather's Tree" by Ann K. Williams

"The Magic of Making Music" with the MSC Singers by Ellen Bennett
VOLUNTEERS NEEDED AT MSC …

Consider volunteering at Midcoast Senior College!

Midcoast Senior College is a volunteer-run organization. With only two part-time paid staff (executive director and bookkeeper), the college succeeds in filling its mission because of the volunteered services of so many. Please consider joining MSC as a volunteer. There are many roles and needs. Give us a call at 725-4900 or email Donna at mscoffice@midcoastseniorcollege.org to learn more!

- Join us in the office where you will answer phones, help with projects, and greet walk-in guests
- Help our teachers in the classroom with simple technical support of TVs, DVDs, etc. (we'll train you!)
- Register students during enrollment periods, in person and on the phone
- Greet and welcome students on first days of term
- Join the Technology Committee and assist with computer-related projects